

OPEN ENROLLMENT for Spring '10 Intro to Culture Course

CLTR201, Introduction to Culture fulfills the Community College of the Air Force (CCAF) Social Science and counts as part of the 16-semester hour residency requirements. This course is 'FREE'. The AF Culture and Language Center announces OPEN Enrollment for the Spring semester 2010, CLTR201: Introduction to Culture course. The Spring course will offer 2 variations, the current "Interactive" course featuring an asynchronous discussion forum and a "Self-Guided" course, both versions are facilitated by instructors. The Introduction to Culture course is similar to any online college or residential college course requiring a time commitment of 3-5 hours per week (including reading, synthesizing and writing) for 15 weeks. Students in both courses have to successfully complete 4 tests and a capstone project.

Start and Stop dates for CLTR201, Introduction to Culture:

Self-Guided Version: START: Feb 15, 2010; STOP: Jul 7, 2010

Interactive Version: START: Mar 15, 2010; STOP: Jun 27, 2010

All current CCAF students are eligible for either version of this free 3-semester-hour course that fulfills CCAF's Social Science requirement and counts towards residency. Students will need a computer with a browser and internet connectivity in order to take the course.

Enrollment is ongoing and information can be obtained by emailing afclc.enroll@maxwell.af.mil.
